REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION. GREATEST POLITICAL GATHERING IN A DECADE. PHILBROOK'S SPEECH A GEM. PLATFORM PULVERIZES PLAISTED POLICIES.

The Bangor Convention, one of the greatest in many respects ever held by any political party in the State of Maine, is a thing of history.

In view of the fact that the new primary law had taken from the political parties the duty of nominating at their State conventions candidates for Governor, it had been more than half expected that the Convention at Bangor would not place any special demand upon the available space of Bangor's City Hall or of her many well-appointed hotels, but certainly those who entertained this sort of an idea had another guess coming to him all right.

Tuesday's trains from every direction were crowded with residents of the Old State ticketed to Bangor and at an early evening hour over 1,300 from every nook and corner of the State were stowed in one way or another in the Bangor hotels as part and parcel of the great Convention of the morning.

The Bangor House was the center of attraction. Here Maine's next governor, we need not mention his name, had a suite of rooms on the first floor and was kept quite as busy grasping the hands of his loyal friends as was Teddy during the afternoon of that great reception day in the Falmouth. Our Honorable Bill is just the kind of a fellow that the Conventioners liked to meet and greet.

The adjoining suite was occupied by Col. F. E. Boothby, another man whose friends in Maine are legion, and who carries the shells that never comes off for each and every one of them. Farther down the corridor the Hon. Frederick A. Powers of Houlton, whom we all like to call one of Maine's most brilliant, progressive and worthy sons, received the congratulations of a host who will be proud to call him if circumstances permit, as Obadiah's successor in the United States Senate.

Hon. A. H. Shaw of Bath announced his headquarters by a modest sign above the door and there received not only those who would make him governor if they could, but also those who confessed by the button upon their coat that Honorable Bill had won their fealty.

Another man there was in that great assembly extending not only one hand but two to the hundreds of friends as they passed and repassed, and this was the Hon. Edwin C. Burleigh, who also is a candidate for the United States Senate. Mr. Burleigh's political career having extended over a quarter of a century has given him an acquaintance and friendship among the people of Maine enjoyed by few if any, and certainly the warm hand grasp and kindly expressions of hope for his success must have possessed him with a feeling of joy better felt than expressed.

Some of our Democratic contemporaries for the want of something real to talk about have resorted to the imaginary, or better, to the hoped for, disaffection. As strange as it may seem they have tried to lead their readers to believe that there were a whole lot of unbusinesslike features in connection with the Bangor Convention, but we will say that the Citizens were one of the first on the grounds and one of the last to depart, and somehow can't get over the feeling that he got as close to the heart of things as did many of his Democratic brethren, and for the life of him he couldn't see, small or hear anything to convince him that there were any war scenes under the surface, on the surface or in the air. On the contrary, despite the fact that a spirited contest was on between the Roosevelt and Taft forces yet the Convention was characterized by an enjoyable harmony.

The Convention was called to order by Henry H. Hastings, Secretary of the State Committee. Prayer was offered by Rev. C. A. Moore of Bangor. The call was read by the Secretary and the Hon. Warren C. Philbrook was introduced as the temporary chairman. Mr. Philbrook was the man of the hour, in fact the man of several hours, for the way he handled that great Convention from the fall of the gavel at 2:30 to the adoption of the resolutions at 2:45 prompted congratulations at 1,200 men. Now, the sterner of the presiding officer at times when the exigencies demand and then the sparkling wit and happy humor to brighten many a spot otherwise dull and perhaps annoying, gave Philbrook such a great big place in the hearts of the delegates that whatever else they forget or remember concerning the 1912 Convention, they can't forget, nor will they want to forget, the Hon. Warren C. Philbrook.

Those who had read the newspapers before going to the Convention were aware that the Teddy forces were in the majority and that delegates favoring his nomination would be elected, and there was more or less speculation as to whether the Taft forces would concede their defeat and place no candidates before the Convention. A convention, however, would not be a convention without some voting and the Taft men decided that they would vote it out. There were, accordingly, two sets of ballots placed before the delegates, one bearing the names of the four delegates at large who favor the renomination of the President and the four who favor Col. Roosevelt. Ballot-ing was had with the result that the Roosevelt supporters received 789 and the Taft men 527.

In the second district the Roosevelt delegates received 150 votes and the Taft delegates 104, the third district stood for Roosevelt 137, Taft 93 and the fourth, Roosevelt 180, Taft 101, hence the twelve delegates that are going from Maine to the Chicago Convention will be for Roosevelt, all being unopposed except the delegates from the fourth district.

Chairman Philbrook's Speech.

The Republican party of Maine meets today in State convention under two unusual circumstances. For the first time in all its history it is not accorded the privilege of such a gathering as this of naming its standard bearer in the approaching campaign, and for the first time in all its history it finds not only the chair of the Chief Executive but also that of the presiding officer in both branches of the legislature occupied by representatives of an opposing party.

While we are thus prevented from performing a pleasant duty, and are always attended with much interest and enthusiasm, yet we are still charged with important tasks and the true spirit of militant Republicanism will arouse interest and enthusiasm at all times and in all places. Because we are charged with important duties which will require much time and careful consideration you will not be long detained by remarks from your temporary chairman and, because these duties are important, a spirit of harmony and self-sacrifice to essentials are to be earnestly invoked.

The first circumstances just alluded to arises from the primary election law.

INTEREST INCREASES IN THE GREAT VOTING CONTEST

Contestants Should Get In Line And Hustle.

WHO WILL GET THE $10 GOLD PIECE—TRADE WITH MERCHANTS GIVING COUPONS.

Judging from the interest that has been manifested in the great Prize Voting Contest so far, there is going to be a great scramble for the $10.00 in gold that will be given to the contestant having the largest number of votes on May 2nd. The special prize is worth winning, and the contestants realize the fact.

That the contest is a success is an assured fact. There has never been a contest in this locality where more or better prizes have been offered, or where there was more strict adherence to justice and equity to all participants. The Citizens desires to emphasize the point that every contestant will be afforded an absolute fair deal.

The names of the judges of the contest will be announced soon. Hear in mind the merchants who are giving coupons with every dollar purchase. When you trade at these stores be sure and ask for coupons. Some little ticket bearing 25 votes may win for some friend of yours the beautiful $400 Obeymeyer & Son Grand Piano.

Get your friends to subscribe for the Citizen. For each one year new subscription you will receive 600 votes; renewals for one year, 600 votes; for each one year back subscription 400 votes.

There are already a large list of contestants, but there is opportunity to nominate others. Fill out the nominating blank and send it to this office. Also cut out the free vote coupon and cast it for your favorite. In order that every contestant may fully understand the rules of this contest, the Citizens wishes to state that the contestant having the largest number of votes during the contest will be awarded the piano as first prize, the one having the next largest number of votes will have first choice of the other prizes. The third largest will have her choice of the remaining prizes, and so on until all the prizes have been distributed.

Use the free coupon in this issue if you know of any lady who has not been nominated when you think would make a good race, use the nominating blank in this issue and send her name to this office or bring it in person and it will be entered. It matters not if she is married or single. This is a popular voting contest—not necessarily a "young lady" voting contest. Read the rules and regulations on another page and govern yourself accordingly.

Some one is going to receive these prizes and you can help decide who it will be.

First count in contest will be Thursday, May 2, 1912, at which time $10 in gold will be awarded to the contestant receiving the largest number of votes.

These are the names of the contestants who have been nominated. They are authorized to accept money for subscriptions to the Citizen and give a receipt therefor.

Get busy and vote for your choice. The contest will be conducted squarely and no partiality will be shown to anyone. Do it now, and help some one reap the benefits of this liberal offer.

DELIGHTFUL PARTY AT RUMFORD.

On Thursday evening the Business Men's Club Rooms was the scene of a most attractive party given by the Misses Hazel and Marie Lovejoy. About sixty invitations had been sent out to this affair and about fifty were present. The rooms looked most artistic in their decorations of yellow. Directly in the alcove a large table stood with decorations of yellow jonquills and a large punch bowl of orangeade with fancy crackers of all kinds. This was presided over by Mrs. E. L. Lovejoy, most of the evening.

The Misses Lovejoy were assisted in receiving by Mesdames Theodore Hawley, P. E. McCarty, Rigby, Neal, Lovejoy and Melcher, while Freeland Morrison and Philip Jarnehan acted as ushers. The first part of the evening was devoted to contests and various Easter stunts, the first one of these being shooting at yellow paper eggs which were suspended from the ceiling at different lengths with rubber balls. Each egg had a different value ranging from one to one hundred. Prizes were given to the young lady and the young gentleman getting the highest score in this line. The next was a contest to see who could cut a piece of tape in the center to the extreme end first, after this an egg hunt was entered into with a good deal of zest. After the hunt an auction was held with Freeland Morrison as auctioneer and various favors were bought with the eggs which had been found. A lot of sport was had over this and a good deal of sporting blood was shown in the bidding.

As soon as these sports had been fully participated in by all, the guests were given a most palatable program in the form of songs and were told to watch for partners by the number in the corner for the first waltz. Another attractive feature of the evening was the collation. Two large baskets hung from either end of the room with yellow strings hanging from them, the young ladies were told to draw from one basket and the young men from the other; on the end of the string was a tiny chicken and a number was attached to the chicken; these numbers were matched and partners for the collation secured in this way.

The party broke up at a late hour after an order of seventeen dances had been enjoyed, and was one of the most delightful affairs ever given in town.

WHEELER-ROBINSON.

At 1:30 o'clock Tuesday, Mr. Lyman Wheeler and Miss Bertha Mae Robinson were united in marriage at the bride's home in Yarmouth, Me. The ceremony was performed in the presence of relatives and friends, Rev. H. J. Davis, pastor of the Baptist church officiating, the double ring service being used. Miss Fannie Moran was bridesmaid and Mr. Walter Robinson, brother of the bride, was best man. The wedding march was played by Mrs. H. J. Davis. The bride was charmingly attired in a cream white dress and carried bride's roses. The wedding dinner was served at 1:30. They were the recipients of many useful and acceptable presents. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler arrived in Bethel on the 2:37 train Tuesday evening.

Mr. Wheeler belongs to one of Bethel's oldest families, a young man of most excellent habits and a prominent business man.

Mrs. Wheeler has been a popular young lady, a successful teacher in the Yarmouth school, and has filled the position of Assistant Librarian at the public library in a very acceptable manner.

The Citizens joins other friends in extending congratulations for a long and happy life.

An informal reception will be held at their home on Main street in Bethel from 8 to 10, Saturday evening, April 20th. Friends are invited without further notice.

MR. WM. LOWE SUSTAINS BAD ACCIDENT.

The many friends of Mr. Wm. Lowe of Bethel were pained to learn of a serious accident sustained by him last Sunday.

He was engaged in taking down a large pine tree for Mr. Elmer H. Young at Bongo Pond. This tree ran up through the veranda of Mr. Young's cottage, and the removing of it was a difficult proposition. Mr. Lowe had removed the first cut from the top, some 25 feet in length, and it was in the removing of the second length that the accident was sustained. He had cut off about a 18 foot length, which was nearly a foot through at the lower end, and the point from which it was cut 25 feet from the ground. When this large log fell, attached as it was to the trunk by rope, it swung the trunk on which Mr. Lowe was supported so vigorously that he was shaken from his holding and fell to the ground.

He landed upon his feet, one striking the veranda and the other the ground. Both ankles were badly shattered and the accident will render Mr. Lowe to the house some two months.

With every cash purchase at Orrin's you get a cash register receipt. Save them and when you have ten dollars' worth bring them in and get free of charge a pound of Orrin's special tea or coffee. DORA THORNE.

Dora Thorne, a novel written by Bertha M. Clay, has been read by nearly every one who reads at all, and is the greatest seller of all the popular stories. It has been a favorite for years and never seems to die out. Now comes a chance to see it in dramatic form, as it will be offered at Oxford Hall, April 23. As a play it is far superior to any of the popular novels that have been dramatized, and it can readily be seen why it is such a success in its dramatic form. There is hardly a woman or man that does not find the story of Dora Thorne one that appeals to them; having read the book, they are anxious to see the play. The character of Dora Thorne gets full sympathy from the female part of any audience, and one also finds the male members in the same mood. While the dramatist has adhered closely to the original story of the book, he has also sprinkled in a goodly lot of bright comedy, and the play in its entirety is a very interesting one. Seats will go on sale for the entire engagement of the Waratah Stock Co., and Dora Thorne will be presented April 23.You will look a good while before you find a better medicine for coughs and colds than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only gives relief—it cures. Try it when you have a cough or cold, and you are certain to be pleased with the prompt cure which it will effect. For sale by W. E. Dwyer

DOCTORS FAILED.
RESTORED BY PERUNA.Catarrh of the Lungs Threatened Her Life.

Miss Ninette Porter, Brantree, Vermont, writes: "I have been cured by Peruna."

"I had several hemorrhages of the lungs. The doctors did not help me much and would never have cured me. I saw a testimonial in a Peruna Almanac of a case similar to mine, and I commenced using it."

"I was not able to wait on myself when I began using it. I gained very slowly at first, but I could see that it was helping me."

"After I had taken it a while I commenced to raise up a stringy, sticky substance from my lungs. This grew less and less in quantity as I continued the treatment."

"I grew more fleshy than I had been for a long time, and now I call myself well."

If you are going to try for the place you should get in line quick, and get if you can the $10.00 in gold which we are to give to the one who has the largest vein when the first cent of bullets is made on May 2nd.

WORLD'S STANDARD DICTIONARY

One of the Most Practical, Well Arranged, Up-to-date Dictionaries Ever offered to the Public.

We give herewith a cut of the World's New Standard Self-Pronouncing Dictionary. This is not one of the old out of date affairs no longer protected by copyrights and hence on the market for a long time, such as have floated about and brought dissatisfaction to thousands during the past few years, but a brand new book, in every detail, and just the dictionary that should be in every home and in the hands of every student. It is a book 6 1/2 x 8 1/2 inches. It contains over 600 three column pages, is bound in the best Seal Morocco binding, is as flexible as the best Oxford Bible, has the title stamped in gold on the side and back, has red burnished edges, a patent thumb alphabetical index, is a gem in every way, and

Used by the students during their learning years
Will help them much through their learning years.

A FEW OF THE COMMENDABLE FEATURES

FOURTY-SEVEN THOUSAND DEFINED WORDS. The arrangement is simple, pronunciation plain, definitions concise, gives the new words to date including aviator, marathon race, dirigible, suffragette, etc., includes synonyms, gives an accented system of phonetic spelling, in short nothing is lacking to make it reliable and complete.

1200 PICTURES including the 1911 biplane and a snapshot of Teddy Roosevelt in a Wright aeroplane at St. Louis, Mo.

CHRONOLOGICAL HISTORY OF THE WORLD. This is one of the crowning features and gives briefly the important events of the world from 2324 B. C. to the coronation of George the 5th in 1911. This contains all of the important events in history. They are arranged in columns and in colors in a very unique way.

CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES. This gives the official census for 1910 of all towns of 5,000 and more in the United States and also gives the census of all States and Counties of the United States for 1910, 1900 and 1890.

OTHER NEW AND VALUABLE FEATURES are map of the United States printed in colors, flags of the nations in colors, map of the world in colors, foreign words and phrases, alphabetical list of abbreviations, tables of weights and measures, how to secure copyright, how to secure patent, rules for pronunciation, facts about all the presidents of the United States, forms for writing letters, common errors in spelling and writing, parliamentary rules of order, Declaration of Independence, Constitution of the United States, population of the largest cities in the world, population of the United States for 120 years, population per square mile of land area of each State, in fact has the biggest fund of knowledge within two small covers of any book before the public.

HERE IS THE PROGRAM. This dictionary is listed at $4.00 and is worth every cent of it. We have procured a quantity of them at a much less price than this and are going to dispose of them according to the following conditions:

FIRST. Any person may receive a dictionary free of charge for three subscriptions, new or renewals. A person in arrears one or more years may pay three full years and get the dictionary or a new subscriber may pay three years ahead or pay one year and secure two other subscribers or two renewals, or pay two years and secure one subscriber or one renewal, or anyone not a subscriber may secure three subscriptions, or three renewals and get the book.

SECOND. Any person may receive a dictionary by paying for or securing two subscriptions, new or renewals and paying 40 cents in money.

THIRD. Any person may receive a dictionary by paying for or securing one subscription, new or renewal and paying 80 cents in money.

FOURTH. Those desiring the dictionary sent by mail will need to add 20 cents for postage.

IF YOU ARE A SUBSCRIBER

Look at the yellow slip on your paper and you may decide that this is the time to pay the full three years or perhaps you will want to pay two years and get a friend to take it for a year. Certainly some one of the above offers will appeal to you.

IF YOU ARE NOT A SUBSCRIBER

Certainly one of these offers will appeal to you. On the first you get $3.50 in the paper and dictionary for $4.00, while on the third you get $3.50 for $2.00, or perhaps a neighbor or two who have the paper now will advance their subscription a year and thus, with your subscription, make the three years.

IF YOU ARE A BOY OR GIRL

There are neighbors who do not have the Citizen. Ask them to subscribe, there are others who have it now. Ask them to pay a year and give the credit to you. Just three is all you need and the book is won.

PLEASE READ THIS

We have carefully examined this dictionary before writing the foregoing concerning it and we feel that all will find it just what we have characterized it, a "gem." Should anyone accept any of these offers and upon receipt of the dictionary be in any way disappointed they may return it to us any time within two weeks and receive back their money.

There is a time in the tide of all lives you know.
Here's your time to get a dictionary while they go.

THE OXFORD COUNTY CITIZEN

AN ETERNAL DAY COMING.

The revolution of the earth about its axis is getting slower and slower, according to Prof. Bauer, of the Carnegie Institution, Washington, and one of these days it will stop altogether, so that half of the earth will be toward the sun all the time and the other half turned to cold, dark space. The causes of this slowing down, according to the professor, are the magnetic storms that are pitting a brake on the earth, increasing the length of the day and night so that if the retardation should keep up as it has been for the past 10 years in 3,329 years then, for one side of the earth there would be perpetual day, hot enough to melt a rock, and on the other side perpetual night, cold enough to crumble the rock into dust. Nor will we have to wait the 3,329 years to note how great the change is, says the Ohio State Journal. Long before then the day will be 30 hours long, and then 30 days long and finally a year long, at which time, of course the earth ceases to rotate. We are told that along the edge of the earth, where the bright day is tempered by the dark night, there will be a perfectly lovely climate, as delightful all the time as a May honeymoon; but the trouble is, there will not be room enough for us all, unless we make up our minds to require less room than we take now.

The "ripeners," who paint the green orange and dress the unripe banana with a deceptive yellow, may soon be without occupation. More scientific methods of shipment by expeditions routes have made it less necessary to pluck fruits and vegetables in the unripe stages, and, of course, the process of sweating them into a semblance of ripeness is inherently deceptive. Also fruits preserved with benzoate of soda may before long be forbidden by the overruling of the American Ronsen board by the judgment of more eminent chemists and physicians abroad, says the New York Times. Dr. Wiley's restoration of power came upon the day of this receipt by the department of agriculture of a full copy of the report made by the referee board of the Prussian government sustaining Dr. Wiley's report, based upon experiments with his "poison squad," that sodium benzoate is harmful when used in preserving foodstuffs.

The thing about Paris that seems to have most impressed our great fellow American, Edison, is that the Champs Elysees is a twilight lane in the country compared with the great white way in little old New York. It is to be presumed that this is the fault of Paris' age. Being some thousands years the senior of Manhattan, she is rather averse to casting too much illumination on her features—the same feeling has been known by a part of humanity, it is said, it takes irrepressible youth to stand the dazzle of Broadway. But if Paris doesn't burn so many electric lights, it has charms that Gotham cannot match.

Massachusetts is preparing to put in force a law which will compel the retirement of state employees on age limit, but with a pension. Inasmuch as part of the pension fund is to be obtained from enforced contributions from these employees, based on certain percentages of their salaries, there cannot be so much objection to the plan as there might otherwise be.

The weather men are telling the people to reject wild geese and even the goosebumps as weather forecasters. The weather men can best advance their cause by furnishing the people with better forecasts.

Our nation's barbers, in convention assembled, advocate a plan to shave with fewer waste motions. A plan to shave with less waste of wind would be more to the point.

A woman in Alaska has been pardoned from jail so that she can get in her feel for the winter. And yet experts say the old-time chivalry is dying out!

A Gotham minister says that happiness is the best cosmetic. This is a valuable hint to husbands who dislike their wives to wear artificial complexions.

One of our readers arises to ask: "What is vulpinism?" As nearly as we can figure it out, vulpinism is snail for riding.

They tell us that this is a busy world, but one gains a different impression by watching a crowd around a scoreboard.

How strange it is that some paragon has not taken it upon himself to call attention to the grass widow's mite.

Experts tell us that the high cost of living makes people eat less and live longer. Let's all stop eating and live forever.

FARM FOR SALE.

I have just sold the Hyerson Farm and the man who bought it got a bargain.

NOW, the next farm I am going to sell is the Edward S. Smith farm and it is another bargain. Fine young orchard with some 400 to 500 trees just beginning to bear. House in excellent repair with furnace in cellar, some hard wood floors, running water, very convenient. Long line of fine poultry houses arranged for the carrying on of an extensive poultry and egg business. Standing hay on the farm was sold last season for $150. Small fruit also. Good pasture of some 50 acres. Nicely situated half way between Bethel and West Bethel villages. I have asked $4,000 for it and it is worth that sum, but I am going to cut that price some and anyone who is seeking one of the best farm opportunities in the State should see me.

How the Girl "Flew" at Suz.
Many of the workers on the Hanz canal were girls digging up the sand with their bare fingers, according to it into the hollows of their hands, throwing it into a sack basket each had woven for herself, putting the basket to their heads and carrying the load of twenty to thirty pounds one hundred feet up the bank and dumping it—Engineering Magazine.
